

Arizona Day by Day

Live News Taken From Territorial Exchanges.

W. F. Shaw left over the S. P. this afternoon for Phoenix.—El Paso Herald.

The San Pedro river has been a raging torrent during the past few days, and many ranchers along its banks have been overflowed.

The city of Tucson is advertising for sale $100,000 fifty-year, 5 per cent gold bonds for the purpose of raising money for the construction of a water and sewerage system.

The father of Ed Lovell, alias Lew's, under sentence of death, is circulating a petition to have the governor commute his sentence to life imprisonment.—Prescott Courier.

Another one of the sons of J. S. Williams has been taken down with scarlet fever. We sincerely hope that he will not experience the illness of his brother, who has just recovered from a most serious attack.—Bisbee Orb.

The inventory and appraisement of the estate of Levi Bradford, deceased, has been filed in the probate court. The entire estate is valued at $108,096.61. The property consists mostly of real estate in the city of Prescott and in patented mines and personal accounts.—Journal-Miner.

The many friends of Grant Allen, who was formerly foreman of the railroad timepiece, will be pleased to know of his success in his new home. Mr. Allen has been given the position of foreman of the Southern Pacific tin shops at Tucson, Arizona.—Albuquerque Journal-Democrat.

George L. Bugbee, formerly of Bowie, is soon to be married to Miss Speed of Wilcox, a sister of Hon. William Speed. Mr. Bugbee was employed in the railroad office at Wilcox and was recently promoted to be train master of one of the divisions of the Southern Pacific in California.—Tucson Citizen.

At an early date it is probable that the city will take steps to put in a complete fire alarm system. At a recent meeting of the city council, the matter was put in the hands of a committee to investigate as to the cost, etc. The system is needed; its installation will be a wise expenditure of money on the part of the city.—Tucson Star.

Twenty men are still in pursuit of the Camp Verde murderer. Ten more men are at Camp Verde awaiting word from the sheriff to go in pursuit of the man. They have fresh horses and in case the man is not captured today they expect to leave tomorrow morning. Two of the Indian trail riders who have been with the posse from the first were old government scouts and know every foot of ground in the vicinity where the murderer is supposed to be in hiding, as well as all the caves in that section, which are numerous.—Journal-Miner.

The washout on the Southern Pacific near Red Rock proved to be more serious than at first anticipated. It was along in the afternoon yesterday before it was possible for trains to pass the scene of the break. Train No. 10 was held here until noon, when it left Tucson, but it was delayed at Red Rock a short time. While in Tucson the delayed passengers enjoyed the stop, and seemed pleased rather than otherwise. The delay will enable them to pass over the desert at night. Train No. 9 from California reached Tucson shortly after 4 o'clock, and soon afterward was speeding eastward. Freight trains were also delayed but are now moving along all right.—Star.

THE NEWS OF PRESCOTT

Prescott, July 13.—(Special correspondence of The Republican.)—There was a welcome little arrival in the household of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hobbs on July 10. Both mother and daughter are in the best of condition at this writing.

Mrs. A. L. Morrison died at Santa Fe, New Mexico, on the 7th inst., before the arrival there of her two sons, R. E. and Joseph E. Morrison, who left here the morning of the 6th. Mrs. J. E. Morrison left here this morning to join her husband for a week's visit to their father, A. L. Morrison. R. E. Morrison returned today on account of stress of business demanding his attention here.

It is a matter of confident belief that the sheriff and his posse have at last discovered the hiding place of the murderer of Wingfield and Rodgers, which is in one of the caves in the vicinity of Holbrook, but from the fact that section of the country it will be a hard matter to unearth the man after all. The sheriff, however, has "standing qualities enough to make him a dead hard game" on such propositions, and if Wade, who it is now believed is the guilty man, is caught in hiding there, he may expect scant mercy from the incensed population of Jerome and the Verde valley.

The following prisoners were escorted to Yuma by Deputy Sheriff Jeff Dabner and two assistants, "Zag and Weber" on yesterday's train: Ezra Barnes and Vincente Lucero, who are to be guests for life at the most prominent hotel in Yuma, on account of murder; Hudson, five years for horse stealing; Hill, three years for burglary; H. Allison, thirty months for robbery; and E. B. Boulden, fifteen months for burglary.

Last evening the ladies constituting the W. R. C. gave a complimentary reception in honor of the twenty-four little misses who took part in the flag drill at the opera house upon the occasion of the Decoration day exercises, to numerous parents and friends of the little ones at the G. A. R. hall. During the evening there were some very pleasing numbers on the program. Recitations and guitar solos rendered by several of the little girls. The entertainment was opened by a repetition of the flag drill, by request, after which the little girls and their goddess of liberty, Miss Ora Roberts, were each presented with a fitting souvenir in the form of gold rings set with small stones, which were highly appreciated by all the happy recipients. After frisking themselves on the delectables, which were spread on tables the length of the hall, to their hearts' content, the little ones and their friends engaged in the enjoyable and merry to the verge of romping (at this time) pastime of dancing, until the hour came to adjourn, near midnight.

Mrs. E. B. Moden, president of the Women's Relief corps, was indefatigable in her efforts to entertain the young people, and guarantee them a good time, in which she succeeded beyond her expectations, as the children were heard to exclaim as they made their tired departure from the hall, that they never, never had such a good time. The W. R. C. seems to be growing in influence having taken place last night before the little girls, being those of Mrs. Barr and Miss Lillian Bander. During the past two months there have been eight new members added to their number. LOUIE BEE.

THE NEWS OF JEROME

Jerome, July 12.—(Special correspondence of The Republican.)—The murderer Oscar Wade has been heard from at Payson, near the McCallan country, where he stopped at a store and purchased cartridges for pistol and rifle, and also quite a stock of provisions, giving the name of Bishop. In view of this information, posters have been issued from the sheriff's office giving the facts, and the supervisors have offered an additional reward of $250 for his capture.

Quite a distinguished party of visitors honored Jerome today with their presence. The party consisted of Mr. E. B. Gage, president of the Congress National bank, and of the Phoenix National bank; Mr. R. E. Wells, assistant general manager of the S. F. & P. railway company; Mr. W. A. Dray, chief engineer; F. A. Sarmiento, assistant secretary and treasurer; and J. H. Emmert, assistant to the president, all of the same company. Henry Kinsley, cashier of the Prescott National bank, accompanied the party, which arrived in Jerome at 12:30 and left at 2:30 p. m. after a tour of inspection around the works under the escort of Sup't. J. L. Giroux, H. J. Allen, Paul P. Hastings, Master Mechanic W. M. Adamson and Metallurgist Robert Mitchell. Many of the gentlemen had never been at Jerome before, and the visit was in the nature of a revelation, as it is to all strangers here for the first time.

L. L. Budworth has been heard from in California and reports that he is having a splendid time. Walter C. Miller and his bride are expected to return within a few days. Dr. T. J. Hart, formerly of Tempe, who joined the Red Cross battalion in the Philippines, has returned and will locate at Jerome. His wife is with him. Dr. Hart is an old friend and fellow-student of Dr. Woods, and will no doubt soon secure a large practice.

Heavy rains are of almost hourly occurrence, interspersed with electrical storms and displays peculiar to this mountain region. The water is very welcome, as so far it has been rather a dry season.

John McGee, the man who lost his arm as the result of an accident on the dump last January, is about to leave Jerome. A subscription for his benefit was circulated yesterday among his fellow-workmen at the smelter, and about three hundred dollars was realized in less than two hours. HERBERT ALLAIRE.

HEIRS TO NEW YORK

The Meeting of a Corporation That Claims to Own Half the City.

Half a dozen persons who declare they are the rightful owners of about half of New York city and nearly all of the kingdom of Holland met Thursday to decide what they should do to get possession of the property. The half dozen constitute the "Union Association of Heirs of Harlem, Aneke Tams, Bogardus Edwards and John Estabrook." J. H. Fonda, president of the association, told me that the meeting was the regular annual gathering for the election of officers, but that no officers would be elected and the old ones would hold over for another year.

"We are just talking about the method of procedure which we will adopt to get our rights," he said. "We are nearly ready to go into court on the Harlem estate and will take some action before long. I hope to go to Holland soon to take up the Webster case and obtain possession of it for the association."

"We are a corporation, organized under the laws of the state of New York, and our membership includes nearly all of the heirs, who are closely related to each other by marriage. There are other associations, but ours is the only genuine one." New York Herald.

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR.

He who has a woman's secret is a failure; he who tells a woman one is a prisoner. Some women will do most as much for the good of their souls as most men will do for the good of their wives' health.

The more a man loves a woman the less he likes her failings; the more a woman loves a man the more she loves his faults. A man is never fully conquered until his wife has succeeded in making him say before company that he likes to push the baby carriage.

Probably women love to play with little babies so because they like to imagine how worthless and insignificant their husbands were once.—New York Press.

CLEANING BY CREMATION

Testing of a New Scheme for Lessening Illness Among Soldiers.

A new invention that promises to revolutionize military camp sanitation and minimize the dangers of typhoid and other epidemics has just had a successful test at the state camp at Peekskill. It was conducted by William G. Bissell, city bacteriologist, and who is also surgeon major of the Seventy-fourth regiment of the national guard. Dr. Bissell will recommend to the state military authorities that the invention be adopted for use by the national guard. He believes it will eventually be used by the government.

The problem of disposing of camp refuse bothered the military authorities of the world for a long many years. It was generally admitted that the open sinks were responsible for a large percentage of the sickness of troops who served in the war between Spain and the United States last year. At Camp Mather the medical experts said the sinks were a very considerable sickness in the brigade, which the Sixty-fifth was attached. It was the same in other southern camps. Some time ago Dr. Bissell conceived the idea of having small portable incinerators for disposing of camp refuse. These incinerators or furnaces were devised by two Buffalo inventors for use in country places where there is no sewerage system. Dr. Bissell figured that if they worked successfully in those places there was no reason why they shouldn't in military camps. When Major General Roe of the national guard was in this city recently, Dr. Bissell suggested that the invention be given a practical test at the state camp. Major General Roe fell in with the idea and detailed Dr. Bissell to conduct the experiments. Seven incinerators were sent to Peekskill for trial. They were used June 1. Dr. Bissell returned home yesterday and reports that the experiments were very successful. The incinerators which were used weigh about 300 pounds each and resemble a small stove in appearance. Each contains a cylinder of sheet iron, within which is a receptacle similar to a kettle swung on brunnions, with a fire box beneath it. A short stovepipe above it furnishes a draught for the fire. The devices are arranged so that fumes and gases are drawn down into the cylinder, where they are thoroughly destroyed before passing into the outside air. The cremation is odorless and occupies about one hour. The incinerators were taken from the field by the Twenty-third regiment and worked very satisfactorily. Major General Roe and Colonel Nelson H. Henry, the post surgeon, carefully investigated the device and said it met with their approval. Colonel Henry is of the opinion that the government officials ought to look into the invention for use in Cuban camps at once.—Buffalo News.

HE LECTURED TO CLERKS.

A Young Man's Bright Scheme to Pay His Vacation Expenses.

"A young friend of mine made his vacation expenses in rather a peculiar manner this year," said a gray haired New Orleans merchant. "He is a department manager in a big New York retail house, and conceived the idea of getting up a lecture to clerks. The talk was devoted to practical advice in regard to everyday life behind the counter—how to address customers, how to make suggestions without being offensive, how to avoid disputes, how to meet complaints, how to refuse credit diplomatically when a refusal is ordered, and a hundred and one other things on which an employe is apt to go wrong without intending to. The lecture was such a success that he was invited to repeat it at other establishments, and he has done so a number of times, charging a fee of $50. It's a good idea. The average merchant hardly realizes what a menace to his business an ill-mannered clerk is likely to be. There are two kinds of bad clerks, the rough, red faced, scolding type and the pale, rat faced, snarling type. The last is the most dangerous to trade. A clerk of that kind is generally a young fellow who feels it necessary to assume a belligerent attitude toward customers in order to show he is just as good as you are and hasn't lost his dignity by waiting on folks. If proprietors knew how much of that kind of thing was going on there would be lots of individuals without a job tonight. Still it's largely due to ignorance and false pride, and for that reason the lecture scheme strikes me as a tip-off. It wouldn't surprise me if the gentleman of whom I speak found it profitable to give his whole time to the work. When it becomes known he will certainly be deluged with invitations to make engagements."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

CUPAN HAD THE RIGHT IDEA.

Many of our volunteers who fought in Cuba came into personal contact with the Cuban hero, and for that reason the lecture scheme strikes me as a tip-off.

"Advance, friend, and give the countersign," said the sentry. "The Cuban stepped nearer, and without a moment's hesitation triumphantly barked into the sentry's face the word 'Fox!'—New York Tribune.

SOMETHING WRONG.

"I can't see why they persist in calling General Swimmer, the brilliant Philippine campaigner, young?" remarked Mr. Hoon, looking up from his newspaper.

"Why, because he is only 26 or 27 years old, of course?" remarked Mrs. Hoon.

"Yes, I know they give that as his age, but don't you believe it! I have been keeping tab on him lately, and have figured that if he went to school to seventeen different places and remained from four to ten years in each place, as has been proudly stated by his former schoolmates, and was also in love with something like forty-seven different girls—we say, a month with each—all of whom had the honor of rejecting him; and had spent as much time exploring Alaska, Mexico, Honduras and other places, and in fighting in Cuba, as the papers claim, and visited his multitudinous relatives only one day apiece, and devoted the usual and necessary amount of time to being an infant, he must now be at least 279 years old!"—Puck.
